Artists open up their Acme Studio in Arts Unwrapped 2007

Artists from five of Acme's London studio buildings will be opening their doors to the public in May and June as part of this year's Arts Unwrapped season. Arts Unwrapped offers the public direct access to art and artists' studios, with the opportunity to buy original work directly from artists at a range of prices.

Entry to each studio building is free. There will be a complementary shuttle bus running between The Fire Station Studios, Poplar and Copperfield Road Studios, Bow on Saturday 2 and Sunday 3 June.

Visitors will have the chance to talk to artists about their work and see where and how it is made. The artists taking part work across every conceivable art form from drawing and painting to photography and film. These studio buildings will be open to the public:
